Christine:

Patrik can you please turn the music down? I'm trying to study.

Patrik reaches back and turns the music down.

In a few seconds Patrik reaches back and turns the music up even louder.

Christine:

You have got to be kidding me, Patrik! Please turn the music down.

Christine:

Look, I mean what's going on? I'm totally trying to study over there and you're blasting.

Patrik:

When's your test?

Christine:

Next week what why?

Patrik:

Next week, you need to relax this is a great song.

Christine:

I know you'll not telling me to relax. I have a test, I need to study some people don't study around here and that's why your not doing well in school.

Patrik:

You need to stop telling me that. Oh God.

Christine gets up and walks across the scene then reaches back and turns off the music player.
